Measure: SB1518

The Reach Code bill (SB 1518) would allow Oregon cities to opt into stronger energy efficiency building standards within their jurisdictions. This bill would pave the way for climate action in the building sector, reducing climate and air pollution and increasing livability in cities that opt into the stronger standards. It is clear that our cities are where real change will occur as we all adapt to the realities of rapid environmental changes, and the building sector has a significant role to play.
