

We own a 13 unit apartment and three tenants have declared hardship and are not submitting rent. If you think confiscating free lodging from we who are trying to help is going to help build future low cost housing , then you don't knmow human motivation.
Chris friess