Measure, Appointment or SB78
Topic:

This is outrageous government overreach plain and simple. What does it matter to the state of Oregon if I want to build a house over 2500 square feet? It is my right to build, pay for, and pay the insurance (if I choose) for any size house, large or small in my pursuit of happiness. I do not need nor want big brother government in my personal business. This is a great example of why rural Oregonians want to join up with Idaho. The one rule government dominated by the extreme left city dwellers in this state have no common sense. In case you are still in denial about the wave of common sense that is now sweeping the nation, you should pull your collective heads out of the sand, because sooner or later those of you who seem to thrive on lording tranny upon the people who choose to live in and on forest and farms will be voted out of office. Let Freedom Ring.
