“Zoned as Forest, it qualifies for a "large tract forest dwelling" per ordinances, making it ideal for those seeking tranquility and seclusion. The county has already approved plans for a 5,000 square foot dwelling,” $1.8 million.

Rural Gentrification and Displacement

- Increases rural home prices/reduce affordability.
- Increases assessed value of rural homes and tax burdens on rural residents.
- Contributes to speculative land values, making land purchases and aggregation difficult for family farmers and ranchers.
